Technological Research Initiative Africa (TRI - Africa) is a community developing organization located in Masindi, Uganda, that gives services of advocacy and consultancy in agriculture, career guidance and wealth creation.

TRI - Africa serves;

Farmers, especially rural based providing them rural banking opportunities, securing their lands from land grabbers, marketing of their products, giving weather index, lobbying both moral and financial support, insuring farmers projects against risks, proper use of agro-inputs as well as adopting technological progresses in farming.

Students, especially in career guidance through mentoring them on how to make right choices of subjects/courses that can easily be marketed and profitable in the life after school. This is to minimize school drop outs, un employment threats.

The youth, especially skilling young men and women to also start earning a standard of living. These comprises of carpenters, welders, craftsmen, tailors, mechanics and builders.

TRI – Africa can partner with any organization that is working on legal empowerment network in minimizing gender based violence and promoting human rights in development in Bunyoro region as well as Uganda at large.

According to our research many house wives have been denied access to money after selling projects products by their husbands for the case of farmers, husbands have sold off homes without the consent of their wives, chased from homes due to claims for their rights and marginalized during decision making due to lack of awareness on gender balance programs.

Also farmers and other rural people have lost properties and lands by land grabbers on grounds of poor law taking approaches and corruption tendencies in the Country.

Important still, many young men and women (youth) have been thrown from homes due to their struggles to defend their visions (clear right life careers), denied support in attaining skills that could earn them a living to sustain their lives and become independent. They have instead been forced to provide free labour, enter unprepared marriages (early marriages).

TRI – Africa can work with any organization in fighting the afore mentioned threats in the rural communities
